ARCHIVE NOTE: at the event, the boardgames that were checked out were somewhat WONKY in different ways, some harder to notice than others.

The following qualities were present.

MONOPOLY - was missing a very important railroad property 'B & O railroad'

YAHTZEE - one of the dice in the set was actually a trick die that had 5 pips on all sides

TWISTER - there was a magnet in the spinner that made the LEFT side a more likely result

SCRABBLE - if you tabulated everything, you'd notice that the W's have been removed
