

Many perilous things are in the hazardous area, make sure you find our entrants (page 1) and ALSO figure out the layout (page 2).

(Finding them and determining the layout can be done in any order, but you need both to finish by placing the entrants, who should be standing upright in the center at the end.)

Area orientation: All students should listen carefully before entering the hazardous area.

It's definitely the most dangerous room in the school, but students are used to it and have entered in a natural order.

Descriptions below tell of the gifted students who have entered and what they are grappling with.

To the right, a list of students in their current positions in the area.

Heard in Annex Mentions:

-Primary bee stung one thoughtful brute.

-An obstacle loss sustained haunting a statuesque student.

-The vice manages capturing one student cold.

-The hidden gene, gracing a student with intense thoughts.

-Leader lost in sounding out choices- what's proper, of S or X or Z?

-Prehensile octopus audibly grabbing kinetic pupil.

-Grunting in the wall of arena, a recovering student.
